

MIXED CONDITIONAL

B2 | Grammar explanation

1 Look at the example.

2 Read the key idea.

We use this mixed conditional when a different past action would change the present.

The if-clause describes the unreal past; the result describes the unreal present.

3 Notice the form.

IF + PAST PERFECT , WOULD + BASE VERB

If I had gone to bed earlier, I would not be tired now.

If she had not moved abroad, she would still live near us.

4 Read more examples.

- If I had saved more money,
I would own a car now.
- If we had taken that job,
we would live in Osaka now.
- They would know the city
if they had stayed longer.
- He would be healthier now
if he had stopped smoking.
- If she had studied art,
she would be a designer now.
- If you had listened to me,
you would not be lost now.